One hundred percent of all donations support Zonta International's projects and programs.

Club Elections

The lengths of service of each elected officer or director should be in accordance with the club bylaws. However, all officers and directors assume office 1 June and should hold office at least for one year.

► Bylaws of Zonta International, Article XIV Section 4 (c)

- Club elections are held when specified in the club bylaws
- At the election, additional nominations may be made from the floor, provided the nominee is qualified and has consented to serve
- The president calls for the Nominating Committee report, which the Nominating Committee chairman reads. The president repeats the names of the nominees and asks if there are any nominations from the floor for each office. After all names are placed in nomination, the president declares the nominations closed.
- The president informs the membership of the procedure for casting ballots, repeats the list of nominees for each position, the vote required for election, and declares polls open
- Elections are by ballot, which may be by mail, unless otherwise stated in the club bylaws

SECTION FOUR – RUNNING THE CLUB

- Officers and directors are elected by majority vote, while the Nominating Committee is elected by plurality vote
- The tellers distribute, count and report on ballots at the direction of the presiding officer
- After the president determines that all eligible members who wish to vote have done so, the president declares the polls closed and asks the tellers to count the votes
- If voting is by ballot, the business of the meeting may continue while the tellers count the ballots outside the meeting room
- When the count has been completed, the tellers prepare a report and the chairman informs the president of its completion
- When called upon by the president, the chairman of the tellers reads the tellers' report including the number of votes received by each candidate.

Sample Tellers' Report

Number of votes cast for <office>	30
Necessary for election	16
Candidate <name> received	19
Candidate <name> received	1
Illegal votes	0

Tellers' names and signatures

- The report is submitted to the president who rereads the results on each position and declares the result for that office
- Where a candidate has a majority, the president declares that candidate elected. Where no candidate has a majority, the president will announce no election.
- In election by plurality, the president declares elected, in descending order, the number to be elected who received the highest number of votes
- After the tellers' report for all offices has been read and elections declared, the president directs new ballots be distributed for the no election position(s), and a second balloting takes place following the same procedure until election is declared
- The tellers' report is added to the minutes, and the president may ask for general consent to destroy the ballots at the adjournment of the meeting. Otherwise, ballots may be kept for a period of three months and then destroyed.
- Newly elected members of the club board take office on 1 June. Installation may take place before or after this date.

APPENDIX A – Parliamentary Procedure

Important Voting Terms

Majority Vote

More than half of the votes cast by those present and legally entitled to vote excluding blanks and abstentions.

Two-thirds Vote

At least two-thirds of the votes cast by those present and legally entitled to vote excluding blanks and abstentions.

Plurality Vote

Highest number of votes for any candidate or proposition when three or more choices are possible. The candidate or proposition receiving the most votes has a plurality.

Unanimous Consent

A fast voting action that can be used at the discretion of the presiding officer. Once a subject has been debated, the presiding officer can ask: If there are no objections, can we adopt this motion by unanimous consent? If there are no objections from voting members, then the presiding officer declares: Hearing no objection, the motion is adopted by unanimous consent.

Motions

How to Present a Motion based on Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised

A member seeks recognition by raising a hand or standing and saying, Madam/Mister President. The presiding officer recognizes the member.

After identifying her/himself, the member says, I move that..., followed by a statement of the motion. If the motion is lengthy, a written copy should be given to the presiding officer. A brief introduction may precede the motion and the proposer may choose to be the first to speak to it. The proposer may not speak against the motion but may vote either for or against it.

The motion should be seconded by another member. This indicates that at least one other member believes that the business should come before the group. The seconder can speak or vote for or against the motion. A seconder is not required when the motion is made on behalf of the board or a committee.

The presiding officer states the motion, which then belongs to the group. The proposer can only withdraw or change the motion by permission of the group.

The presiding officer then calls for discussion, alternating speakers for and against the motion. When discussion is finished, the presiding officer restates the motion and calls for the vote, normally a voice vote, a show of hands or by standing. The affirmative vote is taken first, then the negative vote. A negative vote must be taken even when the affirmative vote seems predominant.

The presiding officer announces the outcome of the vote and any required action, then introduces the next item of business.

Ranking Motions.

There are 13 ranking motions that have an order of precedence. Certain motions have priority over other motions.

The privileged motions are the highest in the sequence of ranking motions. The privileged motions do not relate to the business that is pending.

The subsidiary motions rank next. The subsidiary motions aid the assembly in disposing of the main motion either permanently or temporarily by altering it, by referral, or by otherwise disposing of the motion.

The main motion is the lowest in rank of the ranking motions. The main motion introduces new business to the assembly, proposing that certain action be taken on a subject to be considered. A main motion can only be made when no other motion is pending.

Of the thirteen (13) ranking motions, it is important to keep in mind that a motion of a higher rank than the motion that is pending is always in order. A motion of a lower rank than the motion that is pending is not in order. Used individually to take action, a ranking motion takes precedence over the motions that are listed below it, and a ranking motion yields to any and all of the motions above it.

There are also non-ranking motions that can help to accomplish the desired business in an orderly way.

Non-Ranking Motions.

Non-ranking motions are the incidental motions that deal with questions of procedure arising out of other motions or items of business. These incidental motions are disposed of before business continues.

Motion that Brings a Question Back to the Assembly.

In addition to the main motion, the subsidiary motions and the incidental motions, the final category of motions is the one covering motions that bring a question back to the assembly.

► Make sure to use the proper motion to obtain the desired result. Using motions in club business is a good preparation for district meetings and conventions.

Under Zonta International's parliamentary authority, Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised, there is a motion designed to handle the different situations during meetings. If the member knows the purpose to be achieved, use of the proper motion will normally obtain the desired results.

► Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised gives examples of all types of motions and how and when to use them.

APPENDIX B – Performing a SWOT Analysis

Analysis

The SWOT (Strength – Weakness – Opportunities – Threat) analysis is a powerful tool that helps preparing the strategic and biennial goals for the club. It comprises several steps:

- A. Brainstorm
- B. Compile
- C. Prioritize.

After those three steps, the club can prepare the long-term strategy, the biennial goals and the action plan.

► Preparing Strategic Plans, Biennial Goals and Action Plans, Appendix C of this manual.

Brainstorm.

The first step of the analysis is a brainstorming that can be performed by the whole club or by the club board. Dedicating a club meeting to this first step helps ensure members participate actively in the club's work.

The following questions are examples that can be utilized for the SWOT analysis.

Strength

- What are we best at?
- What intellectual property do we own that can help us with this objective?
- What specific skills does the current membership have that can contribute to this objective?
- What financial resources do we have for reaching this objective?
- What connections and alliances do we have?
- What is our bargaining power with both suppliers and intermediaries?

Weakness

- What are we worst at doing?
- Is our intellectual property outdated?
- What training does our membership lack?
- What is our financial position?
- What connections and alliances should we have, but don't?

Opportunities

- What changes in the external environment can we exploit?
- What weaknesses in our competitors can we use to our advantage?
- What new technology might become available to us?
- What new opportunities might be opening to us?

Threat

- What might our competitors be able to do to hurt us?
- What new legislation might damage our interests?
- What social changes might threaten us?
- How will the economic cycle affect us?

Compile

For each category, compile the information generated by the club/club board in major groups, such as:

- Leadership & Governance
- Finances
- Membership
- Projects & Programs
- Communication
- Website
- Tools.

Compile the information in a table such as the one below. Such a table helps find gaps in the analysis.

S	W
O	T

If needed, perform a second analysis round.

Prioritize.

Of all items in the table, select for the club:

- Strengths to utilize
- Weaknesses to avoid
- Opportunities to take advantage of
- Threats to avoid.

Those will be the base for preparing the strategy, goals and action plan for the club.

APPENDIX C – Preparing Strategic Plans, Biennial Goals and Action Plans

A Zonta club generally has strategic goals and biennial goals. The biennial goals should be prepared after each convention in order to be consistent with Zonta International's Biennial Goals.

Strategic Goals

Strategic goals are statements of strategic direction for the club. They are generally based on the results of the SWOT analysis. They can be time-bound or not. They represent the boundaries that define and characterize the path forward to long term achievements of the club.

► Appendix B in this manual - SWOT Analysis

Priority Grid for Strategic Planning

A goals grid is a relatively simple technique that can help clubs to think more clearly about the Zonta goals, particularly when prioritizing.

What do we want that we already have?	Preserve
What do we want that we do not have?	Achieve
What do we not have that we do not want?	Avoid
What do we have now that we do not want?	Eliminate

Biennial Goals

Biennial goals are statements of what the club wishes to achieve during the biennium. They are composed of plans and their key performance indicators. The biennial goals, including their indicators, should follow the smarter template.

Specific	Target the needs of the organization specifically
Measurable	Track success
Achievable	Take into consideration that Zonta is an organization of volunteers
Relevant	For the fulfilment of Zonta International's mission and the achievement of Zonta's vision
Time bound	To the biennium
Evaluable	Evaluation helps demonstrate progress and identify success stories which in the end will affect the level of how attractive Zonta is to join, to donate to and to cooperate

APPENDIX C – PREPARING STRAT. PLANS, GOALS AND ACTION PLANS

	with
Reflective	Of the analytical work done in the strategic planning process, based on our best understanding of the environment and nature of our organization, our strengths, abilities and opportunities.

Example

Goal No. 1: Recruit and retain committed and skilled members.

Indicators:

- Net increase of membership during the biennium by 5 percent
- Number of candidates for board positions increases during the biennium
- The club conducts a major service or advocacy event per year.

Action Plan

Item	Detail
Goal being addressed	Write the goal
Indicators	Write the indicators
Actions	Define actions that help achieve the goal
Scope/expected outcome	Indicate if the actions will help achieve the whole goal or parts of it
Budget	Prepare a realistic budget
Time plan including milestones	Multiple tools available on the web
Core competencies needed in the core team	Depending on the goal and actions, different competencies are needed: idea generators; researchers; planners; coordinators; implementers; and completers
Core team	Who does what?
Resources needed	What resources other than money are needed?
Success criteria	Define the minimum achievements required for the action to be considered a success
Stop criteria	Define the criteria for stopping the action
Communication plan	Prepare how and when to communicate to the club members and other stakeholders

APPENDIX D – Communication Plan

Communication may be internal, i.e., directed toward Zontians, or external, directed towards other stakeholders or other entities.

A good guideline for developing a communication plan includes the following eight steps:

1. Identify the purpose of the communication
2. Identify the audience
3. Plan and design the message
4. Consider the available and requisite resources
5. Plan for obstacles and emergencies
6. Strategize how to connect with media and others who can help spread the message
7. Create an action plan, and
8. Decide how to evaluate the plan and adjust it, based on the results of carrying it out.

Identify the Purpose

- To become better known in the community
- To educate the public about Zonta, our mission, vision, goals
- To recruit new members
- To rally supporters or the general public to action for Zonta's cause
- To announce an event
- To celebrate anniversaries or other special occasions, and
- To raise money to fund Zonta's projects and programs.

Identify the Audience

Different target groups need different messages provided via different channels.

Plan and Design the Message

When creating a message, it is important to consider the content, mood, language and design.

Content

Create the message with your audience in mind.

Mood

Consider to what emotions the message will appeal. In general, if the mood is too extreme—too negative, too frightening or if it appears that you are trying to make your audience feel guilty—nobody will pay much attention to it. A positive tone will usually reach more people than a negative one.

Language

There are two aspects to language:

- The actual language that the intended audience speaks

- The kind of language used in the message—formal or informal, simple or complex, referring to popular figures and ideas or to obscure ones. Select the level depending on the audience. In general, the best results are obtained when using plain, straightforward language that delivers the message simply and clearly.

Channels of Communication

Use different channels to send different types of messages and/or reach different audiences, such as:

- Posters
- Fliers and brochures
- Newsletters
- Promotional materials—items such as caps, T-shirts and mugs
- Websites—in addition to club website, social media sites such as Facebook, Twitter and YouTube are effective mediums for communication
- Letters to the Editor
- Press releases and press conferences
- Presentations or presence at local events and local and national conferences, fairs and other gatherings
- Community outreach
- Word of mouth—the elevator pitch, i.e., what you can say in a short elevator ride with strangers
- Music
- Exhibits and public art
- Videos
- Television
- Theater and interactive theater.

Resources

The resources should be planned carefully and include determining how much money can be spent and how much volunteer time will be needed.

Anticipate Obstacles and Emergencies

Crisis/emergency planning should be part of any communication plan and should include who takes responsibility for what—i.e. dealing with the media, addressing an emergency situation or correcting errors. It should cover as many situations, and as many aspects of each situation, as possible.

Strategize How to Connect with Media and Others to Spread the Message

Establish relationships with individual media representatives and media outlets as well as with influential individuals and institutions in the community and/or the population. Provide media representatives with reasons for them to want to help Zonta, and follow through over time to sustain those relationships in order to keep communication channels open.

Create an Action Plan

The action plan should contain the timing of the actions, including milestones, success and “stop” criteria.

▶ Preparing Strategic Plans, Biennial Goals and Action Plans, Appendix C, of this manual.

Evaluation

Evaluate the communication plan both in terms of how well the plan was carried out and how well it worked. Use this evaluation to improve the plan and make it more effective each time it is implemented.

APPENDIX E – Preparing Leadership Development and Mentoring Plans

Define the Club Leadership Team

- How many committed leaders are in the team?
- What kinds of skills are required?
- How will the leadership team support each other and the club?

Strengthen the Current Club Leadership

- What are the strengths of the team today?
- What are its difficulties?
- Determine the areas for which the team as a whole can use leadership development
- Find the needed leadership training tools in the Zonta Leadership Program. If you do not find the tools you need, contact the chairman of the Zonta International Leadership Development Committee
- Schedule the training
- Evaluate the training and send feedback to the Leadership Development Committee, leadershiptraining@zonta.org.

► Leadership Development Tools under Tools

Set the Leadership Development Goals for the Club

- Dedicate a club meeting to discussing leadership training and identify specific needs desired by club members. These could include conflict resolution, facilitation/presentation skills, financing or risk management
- Make specific goals for leadership training to address the areas identified
- Set up a training plan, similar to the example here:

Goal	Leadership Development Activities and by whom	Timeline
Improve email communication skills and Internet skills	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Preparation before writing the email • Using the appropriate language and content • Writing the email • Following up after sending the email • Trainers: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Member A – Leadership Development Committee, ○ Member B – others 	This Month
How to lead effective meetings	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Preparing an effective agenda • Including the necessary material • Leading the meeting • Following up after the meeting • Trainers: 	Next Month

APPENDIX E – PREPARING LEADERSHIP AND MENTORING PLANS

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Member A – Leadership Development Committee ○ Member B – others ● Material to be downloaded from: <website>
Emotional Intelligence	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● What is emotional intelligence? ● When can / should it be used? ● How can it contribute to strengthening the club? 	Before year end

Select the Training Method

The Zonta Leadership Development Program provides tools for different methods of training such as PowerPoints, videos, webinars and more. The committee can always be contacted about the possibility for a face-to-face or instructor-led training. Do not, however, underestimate the power of the following methods:

Model good leadership. Be a good leader and a role model for those who will follow you.

Teach as you lead. While handling a delicate negotiation, seize the opportunity to teach someone about the art of negotiating. Share strategy with the club board. How did you prepare before the meeting where the negotiation was to take place? What else did you consider?

Mentoring. Encourage mentoring programs within the club and be proactive in identifying potential mentors. A successful practice in many clubs has been to appoint a mentor to each new member during the first year of membership. This helps maximize the value of membership for the new member and contributes to member retention.

Cooperate with other Zonta clubs. Leadership development is useful to all Zonta clubs. Cooperate with other Zonta clubs in arranging leadership training with external trainers, thus sharing the expenses.

Orientations and workshops. These are excellent opportunities for leadership training. Make sure that:

- The target group is well defined
- The needs of that group are well-defined
- The program is tailored to address those needs.

APPENDIX F – Risk Management

The purpose of risk management in a Zonta club is to protect its board and its members from negative events and to preserve the data, records and physical assets of the club. Action plans are created to minimize or eliminate the impact of negative events and strategies are prepared to suit the type of risks present in an organization like Zonta.

Each club should assess its risks based on statutory requirements, the club's activities and the business practices in the country in which the club is located. The risk assessment should cover all aspects of the club's operation and focus on risk mitigation in areas where potential risk is identified.

► Risk Management Tools under Tools

Legal Structure and Tax Status

Countries have different structures for organizations and voluntary groups. Find out what the options are in your country. Some structures better limit the liability of the board members. Whichever structure your club chooses, you must draft the rules your club will work with—the governing document. In Zonta International, the governing document is the Bylaws of Zonta International and there is a suggested template for club bylaws on the Zonta website.

► Clubs Bylaws Template under Forms

The tax status of the club will vary from country to country and it is essential that you find out what is relevant for clubs in your country. In most countries, the club's Zonta business shall have to be separated from its charitable activity, often in separate entities, if tax deduction for donations is the aim. The club may need to set up a separate foundation, similar to the Zonta International Foundation, to deal with the charitable work of the club.

► Appendix I in this manual - Tax Status for Clubs in the USA

Finance and Operation

The club should maintain procedures for internal controls in writing. This would include procedure for handling cash, signing checks, reconciliation of bank account and providing regular financial reports to the club members, among other things. Club signatories for contracts, checks and other undertakings, should be documented and updated.

► Appendix H – Financial Management of this manual

If club funds are being invested in financial instruments, it is advisable that these instruments are cash equivalents or low-risk products and that all decisions regarding these funds are made in accordance with written club policy.

Good risk management is to have a Social Media Policy, which outlines how the club wishes to use and be seen by social media, and to nominate members responsible for the social media activity of the club.

▶ Electronic Communications and Guidelines under Governance/Policies

Reputation is very important for a nonprofit organization. It takes only one negative event to damage the reputation of an organization, but with increased awareness of potential risks these events can be better managed and in most cases avoided altogether. If the board has reason to believe that something is not right in the club or somebody has done something wrong or is about to do something that will not benefit the club, take immediate action to minimize the damage.

▶ Conflict of Interest, in Section Two of this manual.

Liability and Insurance

The club board is liable for the activities of the club. The level of this liability will depend on the legal structure of the club and differs from country to country. Make sure you know what is applicable where your club is located. Regardless of structure, officers and directors have a fiduciary duty always to put the interests of the club first.

▶ Fiduciary Duty and Legal Responsibility in Section Two of this manual

There are various types of insurance policies available to cover the board, the members and the public during Zonta club activity.

- General Liability Insurance. Covers the club in the event of bodily injury or fire.
- Directors' and Officers' Liability Insurance. Covers the board members for breach of duty claims such as discrimination, sexual harassment and breach of contract.
- Event Cancellation Insurance. Covers the club for financial loss if an event has to be canceled due to unforeseen circumstances.

Other incidents that the club may wish to insure could be loss of physical assets and data.

General liability insurance is a necessity for clubs in North America. Zonta International has therefore arranged a group liability insurance coverage for all clubs in this region. An additional fee is added to the dues for these clubs to cover the cost. The coverage is automatic for North American clubs in good standing. This coverage does not include directors' and officers' liability.

Archiving

All club assets should be stored safely and preserved for the future. If helpful or required, a Retention Policy indicating how long certain documents or artifacts should be saved and kept updated for future boards and members to follow.

Succession Planning

The leadership of any club is very important and the knowledge and experience of long-standing Zontians should be used to introduce new members quickly into the operation of the club.

Clubs with a succession plan and leadership training on the agenda will know how to handle the future leadership as well as unexpected vacancies on the board due to illness or death.

► Risk Management Tools, under Tools

APPENDIX G – Financial Management

Club Dues

Club dues should be sufficient to finance the operation of the club and meet its budget. It is recommended that two budgets be prepared, one for the service fund and one for operations.

District and Area Dues

These dues vary and the district and the area will advise how much they are and when they should be paid.

International Dues

International dues and payments are explained in the Governing Documents, including procedures relating to nonpayment of dues and fees.

There are several types of dues:

- Per-capita
- Young professionals member
- New member
- Charter member
- Reinstated member
- Z Club/Golden Z Club charter
- Half-year member

Members transferring from one club to another pay the international dues in the new club, unless they have already paid for the year in the old club, in which case the new club will collect dues from the transferring member only in the following year. The same applies for district and area dues.

To pay dues online, please visit the Zonta Membership website. Dues can be paid in US$ or Euro.

- ▶ Bylaws of Zonta International, Article V
- ▶ Rules of Procedure of Zonta International, Section 3
- ▶ Pay Dues online under Tools/Membership Dues Tools

Accounting Practices

Accounting practices should be followed according to the generally accepted standards in the country of the club. The Sample Bookkeeping Worksheets provided on the Zonta website are optional for clubs to use and the instructions in this section refers to those worksheets.

Keep a record of receipts and disbursements manually or electronically.

Keep separate accounting records for service projects income, expenses and donations received and distributed.

Cash receipts. Record all cash receipts by filling out the Monthly Cash Receipt Worksheet provided as an example on the international Membership website.

1. Record the payer and the amount
2. Record amount received under the appropriate category for the reason the money was received
3. Total the amount column
4. Total all the other columns.
5. Add the totals of all the other columns. This should equal the total of the amount column.

Cash Disbursements. Record all cash disbursements by filling out the monthly Cash Disbursement Worksheet provided as an example on the international website. Keep receipts for all cash disbursements.

1. Record payee and amount
2. Record amount paid under the appropriate category depending on what you paid for
3. Total the amount columns
4. Add the totals of all the other columns. This should equal the total of the amount column.

Bank Statement Reconciliation. You may use the Bank Reconciliation sheet provided as an example on the international website.

1. Record the monthly balance from the bank statement
2. Add to the bank statement balance receipts collected but not yet recorded on the bank statement
3. Subtract the amount of any checks written but not yet recorded on the bank statement
4. Look for miscellaneous income or expenses such as interest income or bank service charges on the bank statement and record on the monthly cash receipts or cash disbursement worksheet
5. This is the adjusted bank balance. It should be equal to the amount from bank reconciliation proof Step 4.

Bank Reconciliation Proof. You may use the Bank Reconciliation sheet provided as an example on the international website.

1. Record beginning cash balance
2. Add the total amount from the monthly cash receipts worksheet
3. Subtract the total amount from the monthly cash disbursement worksheet
4. This is the adjusted bank balance and should equal Step 5 above.

Financial Statements. Financial statements should be distributed to the club board and club members with a frequency in accordance with the club bylaws, preferably monthly. You may use the Financial Statement sample on the international website.

1. Record beginning cash balance
2. Record revenue (i.e. cash receipts) by category, then total all of the revenue. This total should equal the total amount from the monthly cash receipts worksheet

APPENDIX G – FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT

3. Record expenses (i.e. cash disbursements) by category, then total all the expenses. This total should equal the total amount from the monthly cash disbursement worksheet
4. To the beginning cash balance, add total revenue and subtract total expenses. This will give you the ending cash balance, which should equal the adjusted bank balance from above.

APPENDIX H – US Matters and Filing Requirements for US Clubs

This information refers only to clubs in the United States.

Zonta International Tax Status

Zonta International is a nonprofit organization under Sec 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Service Code. As such, Zonta International is exempt from Federal and State of Illinois Income Tax.

Zonta International is an association of clubs and for tax law purposes is not a charitable organization and is hence not exempt from the State of Illinois Sales and Use Tax on purchases made to carry out its activities. Contributions to Zonta International are not tax deductible exempt to the donor.

Zonta International Foundation Tax Status

Zonta International Foundation is a charitable nonprofit organization under Sec 501(c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Service Code. As such, Zonta International Foundation is exempt from Federal and State Income Tax and from the State of Illinois Sales and Use Tax.

The exemption for sales tax applies on purchases directly made by the Zonta International Foundation to carry on its charitable programs and activities and all fundraising activities.

Zonta Clubs in the US Tax Status

Zonta clubs have the same federal income tax status as Zonta International, i.e., nonprofit tax-exempt organization with 501(c)(4) status are included under Zonta International's Group Exemption Number 1219. Zonta clubs are not considered charitable 501(c)(3) organizations.

Implications for Clubs in the US

In order to be recognized by the Internal Revenue Service as a part of Zonta International's group exemption, each club must have an employer identification number. To obtain this identification number, complete IRS Form SS-4, Application for Employer Identification Number (EIN), and submit it to the IRS. Upon notification of your identification number from the IRS, notify headquarters of this identification number. Each club must also submit its authorization to headquarters to be included in the group exemption.

Clubs in the United States with gross revenue from all sources totaling more than US$25,000 must file an IRS Form 990 annually by 15 October. Clubs in the United States with gross revenues of US$25,000 or less are required to file a 990-N e-postcard electronically with the IRS. Each club is responsible for determining and following its own state or county's filing requirements.

Zonta clubs in Illinois or in any state are not authorized to use the Zonta International Foundation Illinois sales tax exemption number, even when engaged in fundraising activities that may benefit the Foundation. The use of this number is limited to the Foundation. The

APPENDIX H – US MATTERS & FILING REQUIREMENTS FOR US CLUBS

Foundation cannot monitor its use by others, and unintentional misuse could jeopardize the Foundation's tax status at the state and possibly federal levels.

Zonta clubs are not automatically exempt from sales tax even when raising money for charitable purposes. You must follow your state regulations.

If your club has established a charitable 501(c)(3) fund/club foundation, donations to that entity, either for your local projects or for Zonta International Foundation, are tax deductible. You must provide a written receipt for a contribution of US$250 or more in a single transaction. You must deduct the value of any services or products provided in exchange for the donation. For example, a benefit dinner ticket costs US$100/person. The actual cost of the dinner is US$65. The ticket should state that US$35 is tax deductible as a charitable contribution. If a donor buys eight tickets for US$800, US$280 is tax deductible. The 501(c)(3) entity should issue a receipt for US$800, stating that the tax-deductible portion is US$280.

If your club does not have a charitable 501(c)(3) fund/club foundation and funds raised do not go directly to a 501(c)(3) organization, a notice should accompany all solicitations and fundraiser event tickets to read as follows: Payments for participation in this fundraising event are not deductible as charitable contributions for United States Federal Income Tax purposes.

Any donation from an individual directly to Zonta International Foundation may be tax deductible. The Foundation can provide receipts only to clubs, organizations or individual donors who make their payments directly to the Foundation.

APPENDIX I – Sample of Club Meeting Agenda

Guest speakers may participate in the business sessions of a club meeting if allowed by the club bylaws or by the club members at the meeting.

The agenda below assumes that the club follows the current edition of Robert's Rules of Order, Newly Revised in conducting meetings and making decisions as a group. In addition, there are guidelines in this manual for members who are responsible for activities at the club. These guidelines are designed to enable the club to conduct events with courtesy, consideration and recognition of status.

Zonta International Protocol Manual contains guidance for ceremonial occasions, including order of precedence, the charter ceremony, the installation ceremonies for club Boards and more.

► Zonta International Protocol Manual under Governance/Manuals.

Business Meeting Agenda

1. Call the meeting to order and welcome

- Welcome members and guests, introducing the guests
- Establish the presence of a quorum before proceeding. In the absence of a quorum, business requiring a vote must be postponed. If urgent action is required, the action must be ratified by at the next meeting at which a quorum is present.

2. Approval of the agenda

- Any additions to the agenda are proposed here.

3. Approval of minutes from previous meeting

- Review and approval of minutes of previous meeting. If the minutes have been distributed, they need not be read unless a member specifically requests it. The president asks if there are any corrections to minutes distributed. Until approved, the minutes constitute a draft document.

4. Reports of club board, treasurer and standing committees

- Any correspondence is reported by the secretary. Action on correspondence will be taken up under new business.
